

Collegiate Way International Conference

13 – 17 November 2016

Australian National University, Canberra

DATE CLAIM

Following the first international conference on the collegiate model of university life and community at Durham University in 2014, the Collegiate Way International Conference will be held in Australia, in the nation's capital, 13 -17 November 2016.

With an overall theme of Collegiate Communities – Global Contexts, the conference will bring together colleagues from all parts of the globe! Our biennial UCA Conference will be part of this special international gathering and connected tours are planned for both pre and post conference.

Programme planning is currently underway and further information will be made available in the coming weeks.
