Dean of Students

- Unleash the transformational power of education
- Develop young people professionally and personally
- Drive positive impact in a distinctive setting

St Hilda's College seeks to appoint an outstanding educator to the position of Dean of Students to guide its residents in building their academic, social and life skills. The Dean will lead the development and implementation of innovative programs that inspire residents to reach their full potential. The position is based within a residential college and the Dean will be housed on its grounds, providing the distinct benefit of close and ongoing influence in driving positive transformational impact.

Reporting to the Principal of the College, the Dean of Students will oversee the daily operations of well-being, training, academic excellence and discipline in the College. A critical element of this role is ensuring that every St Hilda's student is nurtured as an individual and achieves success in their academic and personal development.

You will be an educational leader who believes in the transformational power of education. Your work history demonstrates your commitment to the personal and professional development of young people. Regarded as an outstanding communicator, you are easy in your relationships with young people and have a history of developing innovative personal growth programs that ensure inclusiveness, leadership development, academic excellence and employability. Master level qualification preferred.

St Hilda's College is an independent, residential college at The University of Melbourne, Australia's top University. It provides a vibrant residential community for students from all parts of regional Victoria, interstate and overseas.

With around 220 students and 16 academics on site, St Hilda's is a close-knit living community that is connected across generations by the Communitas spirit.

The College offers outstanding resources to its students including a rigorous and supportive academic program; academic advice and career help; a range of extra-curricular opportunities to grow; and a worldwide network of alumni and friends of the College.
